OTROMUNDO

OTRO MUNDO

"To give back to society, and especially to the youth, everything I have learned (and also received) in over 30 years of professional career is my desire. Those of us capable of generating impactful transformations have the responsibility to put them into action. At Otro Mundo, we aim to be a beacon of light for learning, providing opportunities for those who want to grow. You don't learn what you don't love. If you're ready, we're ready."

PERFORMING ARTS

The Performing Arts program is based on three fundamental pillars: self-management, creativity, and comprehensive vision.

From the outset, artists immerse themselves in an environment that promotes academic and artistic excellence, prioritizing self-managed projects and a solid practical foundation.

The curriculum includes a wide variety of subjects such as acting, dance, vocal technique, on-camera acting, playwriting, staging and integration, audiovisual techniques, piano, choral practice, directing, production, project management, and administration. Additionally, the program allows artists to take subjects from other pathways (e.g., composition, arrangements, music production, audiovisual production) as elective courses, enabling them to develop a comprehensive and distinctive education.

Ages: 8 to 25 years old. Divided into age ranges.

MUSICAL ARTS

Our music programs are based on three fundamental pillars: self-management, creativity, and comprehensive vision.

From the beginning, artists immerse themselves in an environment that promotes academic and artistic excellence, prioritizing self-managed projects and a solid practical foundation.

The curriculum covers a wide variety of subjects such as music theory, ear training, sight-reading, composition, arrangements, orchestration, technology applied to music, collective creation laboratory, piano, vocal technique, choral practice, introduction to the music industry, music history, music production, and project management and administration. Additionally, the program allows artists to take subjects from other pathways (e.g., acting, dance, on-camera acting, audiovisual production) as elective courses, enabling them to develop a comprehensive and distinctive education.

Ages: 8 to 25 years old. Divided into age ranges.

AVANT MEDIA

The Avant Media program is aimed at those seeking to specialize in this area from a creative and planning perspective, with a focus on producing innovative multimedia content, designing digital experiences, developing applications and technological platforms for media, managing digital communication projects, and applying artificial intelligence to media and productions across various platforms, among other topics related to the convergence of media and technology.

Specific content to be covered includes Advanced Audiovisual Production, Web Design and Development, Digital Marketing, Data Analysis for Digital Media, Transmedia Narrative, Virtual and Augmented Reality, Artificial Intelligence Applied to Media, among other topics related to the convergence of media and technology.

Ages: 8 to 25 years old. Divided into age ranges.
